VOL. IX. NO. 6 — FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, SUNDAY, JANUARY 6, 1895 — PRICE—5 CENTS

LAST OF THE GANG

Ukiah Marauders Under Arrest.

STATEMENT BY PORTER ASHE

He Denies His Mismanagement of Mrs. Terry's Estate.

UKIAH, January 5.—Ormonde Hughes, the last of a band of midnight marauders, known as the Grouse gang, who was arrested in San Jose Wednesday by Officer Jamison, was today held to appear before the superior court of this county in the sum of $500. Hughes, who is the son of a San Jose clergyman, is charged with burglarizing the Palace hotel in this city in September. His brother Vera is also under bonds for a similar crime.

Charles Burnett, another of the gang, has been sentenced to Whittier for three years. Two other young burglars are also in jail here. It was a general clean up.

ASHE'S DENIAL.

Claims He has Not Mismanaged the Terry Estate.

ST. LOUIS, January 5.—Porter Ashe, the famous California horseman, who is in this city with his stable of racers, spent all day today in preparing a lengthy statement in answer to the charges recently made against him before the superior court in San Francisco by Thomas H. Williams, backed by a statement of Morgan Hill, alleging mismanagement of the estate of Sarah Althea Terry, whose guardian he is.

Mr. Ashe denies that he wasted or mismanaged Mrs. Terry's estate or sold personal property belonging thereto and converted the proceeds to his own pocket, or violated his oath and duties under the law of California, or neglected to take care of his ward and provide her with the necessaries and proper medical attendance. The statement is a very lengthy one, covering the time of Terry's tragic death to the present. It reviews his whole connection with the case and denies Williams' charges in toto.

FELL FROM A TRAIN.

Mrs. Mary Jasous Killed at Siskiyou Summit.

ASHLAND, Or., January 5.—Mrs. Mary Jasous, traveling from San Francisco to Tacoma, fell from the train at Siskiyou Summit last night, in some mysterious manner, and was killed. It is believed that she was walking from one car to another, and missing her footing, fell between the cars to her death. The body was brought here, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict in accordance with the facts. She was 45 years of age, and a native of Holland. Her husband, who was on the same train, was the first to discover her disappearance.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 5.—Five furlong—Pawyer, Conde, Normandie. Time 1.00.

Five furlongs—Abie P, Red Light, Kitty L. Time 1.11¼.

One mile—Lovdal, Jim Flood, Charmion. Time 1.53.

Mile and half steeplechase—St. Brandon, April, Eli Kindig. Time 3.41½.

Five furlongs—I Don't Know, Chesnuck, Ricardo. Time 1.19.

Killed by Electricity.

TACOMA, Wash., January 5.—Two thousand volts of electricity passed through Peter Peterson, day electrician at the city light station this morning, instantly killing him. In making changes on the switchboard he grasped two plugs at the same time, his thumbs touching them too far up and on the non-insulated portion.

Small Gain For Haley.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 5.—In the recount for county clerkship, Haley, Democrat, gained 132 votes in four precincts. Currie, Republican, was declared elected and Haley contests.

THE SUPERVISORS PART.

Some of Them to Meet Again on Monday Next.

When the Board of Supervisors adjourned yesterday afternoon the adjournment was in the nature of a leave-taking—for two of them. Mr. Foster will cease to be heard from when road matters come up in the First district and Mr. Butler will have four years leave of absence.

The matters to be settled up by the retiring board were solely road and financial details. The most important was the authorization of a transfer of $2500 from the general road fund to the Fourth supervisorial district. This was to extinguish an indebtedness, the justice of which was freely recognized by the board.

The sum of $283 was also transferred from the general fund to the swamp land fund.

The bonds of Carruthers school district were ordered cancelled and placed on file.

On motion of Butler, seconded by Sayre, the auditor was directed to draw a warrant in favor of the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company for $300, for a strip of land of which the dead hog been filed.

The road deeded to the county across the Laguna de Tache was declared a public highway.

The new board will organize on Monday. The incoming members are C. C. Garrett from the First, and Matt Rose from the Fourth district. Both are Republicans.

Birthday Party.

Miss Genevieve Swart entertained a few of her friends last evening at her home on South L street, the occasion being Miss Swarts' eighteenth birthday anniversary. The house was very prettily decorated with evergreens and palms. Music, conversation and dancing whiled away the time till midnight, when a dainty repast was served, after which dancing was resumed, and it was far into the "wee sma' hours" when the guests bade their young hostess good night, with wishes for many more as enjoyable events. Those present were: Mrs. Ed Betteridge, Mrs. Swarts, Misses Joe Waggoner, Kate Ebner, Lily Kaiser, Carrie Ebner, Zillah Hand, Sara Kaiser and Genevieve Swain; Messrs. Ed Greeley, Will Leavitt, Mat Hugh, Earl Hopkins, Irwin Adams, Herman Swarts and D. R. Adams.

SUES FOR HIS SALARY.

Deputy Sheriff Timmins Brings Action Against Auditor Austin.

Suit was commenced yesterday by Deputy Sheriff L. P. Timmins against County Auditor R. H. Austin to collect $400, which the plaintiff claims is the balance due him on his salary for sixteen months. The complaint sets forth the allegations that the salary of the plaintiff was fixed by law at $125 per month, but that Auditor Austin, although requested to do so, refused and still refuses to issue a warrant for that sum, but instead will not issue a warrant for more than $100 per month.

Auditor Austin will go out of office at noon next Monday, January 7th, and if the suit goes against him, it will make complications. The suit is brought, no doubt, as much for the purpose of testing the law as to collect what is already due.

Died at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 5.—Advices from Honolulu by the bark Ceylon state that Judge S. D. Payne of San Jose died on board the Barkentine S. G. Wilder, while en route there from San Francisco. The vessel arrived December 15th, Payne dying two days previously. He was accompanied only by his daughter and took the sea voyage for his health. Death was due to softening of the brain. The remains will be embalmed and sent home on the Australia.

Sixty-six Slaughtered.

Thomas Mahoney believes in making hay while the sun shines, or, in other words, he kills coyotes while the scalp law stands unrepealed. There is a general belief that the coming session of the legislature will repeal the law, and those who expect to reap a coyote harvest must do so quickly. Thomas Mahoney brought in sixty-six scalps to the county clerk yesterday, and the bounty will amount to $330.

Death of Professor Sones.

A telegram was received in Fresno yesterday announcing the death of Professor George D. Sones, a teacher in the state university. Mr. Sones was for two years teacher of science in the Fresno high school, and was a young man of much promise. His death was a painful surprise to the people of Fresno. It is not known here what caused his death.

DOUBLE MURDER.

AN ARIZONA POSTMASTER AND HIS SON KILLED.

Two Mexicans Enter the Store of F. M. Doll for the Purpose of Robbery.

TUCSON, January 5.—Meager details have been received of a double murder at Alma, a small settlement sixty miles from Tucson. About 8 o'clock two Mexicans entered the store of F. M. Doll, postmaster, and deliberately shot dead him and his son George, aged 23, and fatally wounded Mrs. Doll. They would probably have killed her too had not the noise of an approaching wagon scared the murderers away. The motive was robbery. Indignant ranchers are in pursuit and will hang the Mexicans to the nearest tree if they capture them.

WEST PARK LETTER.

There is Much Sickness Among the People.

There is a great deal of sickness in the colony at present, principally typhoid fever. Burrel Tabor was one of the first to be taken down. In spite of all that skill and care could do he succumbed to the disease, leaving a wife and three little children to add to the sad features of this case. Mrs. Tabor and two of the children are down with the same dread disease, with very little chance of recovery. The doctor says the cause of the trouble is their well, the water of which has been polluted by the large number of cattle kept on the place.

George McNeil who has been very ill with typhoid fever at the residence of his brother, Al McNeil, is recovering. He had a hard seige for some time before he was pronounced out of danger.

West Park has an occasional infliction as well as less favored localities. One of those pestilent individuals known as a gossip has been getting in his nasty work again. This particular offense is, if anything, more glaring than usual. It is a lie made of whole cloth. When will people understand true religion and do unto others as they would be done by? Of all offenders, the sneaking slanderer is the worst. Like the snake, always striking from ambush.

Mrs. Hill is the latest victim of typhoid fever. The lady became ill several days ago, and has grown worse. She is greatly missed in church and Sunday school circles, being a prominent church member and Sunday school. All unite in wishing her a speedy recovery.

The family of William Holcomb on the Beckwith place, has had a spell of the fever. Their eldest boy was in bed but is now convalescent. The sewer runs past their door. The poison from this source caused his illness.

Ed Winters was called to Bakersfield this week by the death of his neice.

A. C. Garner has moved his family to his new home on Keary avenue.

Mrs. Bessie Miller, who has been visiting friends and relatives in West Park, returned to her home in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

The necktie social to have been given by the Haymakers a week ago Friday, had to be postponed on account of the wet weather. However, a number of West Parkers got together last Monday evening at the hall and tripped the light fantastic toe till an early hour in the morning. The date of the next social has not been settled yet. All members of the club are earnestly requested to be present next Wednesday evening. The election of a new set of officers, and other important business, will be disposed of.

The Christmas tree called out a very large crowd on Christmas eve. The children rendered a good program, after which Santa Claus, in the person of Rev. J. W. Webb, was introduced and right worthily did he perform his duties. There was abundance of candy, nuts, apples and oranges for all the children. I saw children there 60 years old. The old children seemed to vie with the young children in enjoying themselves.

The football craze has struck West Park and the boys are very busy organizing a club. David Barnwell appears to be the leading spirit. It is lots of fun for the boys at present, but the glamour will wear off about the time they get most of the skin kicked off their noses.

The roads in some parts of this locality are in a horrible condition covered with mud and water. The prospects for a splendid crop of grain were never fairer than at present.

RAMBLER.

West Park, January 5, 1895.

A FATAL QUARREL.

Visalia Citizens Exchange Shots.

FRANK STORER IS KILLED

By Thomas Gribble, Who Has Been Hunting Trouble for Some Time Past.

VISALIA, January 5.—Frank Storer, a blacksmith, was shot at 1.20 this afternoon by Frank Gribble. Some feeling had existed between the two men for some time over a bill owed Storer by Gribble.

Storer was standing in front of a store, when Gribble came up and a quarrel ensued. No one was near, and the commencement of the trouble was not noted. Storer was heard to tell Gribble to shut up, when Gribble jumped into the street and fired three shots in rapid succession at Storer, who at once pulled his own weapon.

Gribble ran into Parker's butcher shop followed by Storer, who emptied his gun at his assailant. Gribble then mortally wounded Storer. Storer is a married man with a family, and was of a quiet and peaceful nature, while Gribble has been hunting trouble for some time past. He is now in jail. Storer died half an hour later.

During the shooting three other persons were hit by the bullets. Mr. Oakes was struck in the foot, and two men, one named Bliss and another whose name is not known, were each struck in the leg.

The Night Conductor's Courtship.

The conductors on the night runs are usually more genial than those who look after the fares in the daytime. Just why this should be so is not quite clear, but the fact that most of them conduct affairs of the heart with young women who are engaged in domestic service during the daytime may have something to do with it. In making assignments the idea usually is to put the married men on the day runs and the single men on at night. As soon as the evening dishes are out of the way the lady in whom he is interested boards his car, and between one end of the line and the other they manage to have a lengthy tete-a-tete. The gripman is more fortunately situated than the conductor in this respect, as his little chats are not subject to frequent interruptions, as the conductor's are.—Chicago Tribune.

THE STORM'S WORK.

STREAMS SWOLLEN AND LOW LANDS SUBMERGED.

WOODLAND, January 5.—The storm that commenced on Thursday and continued for twenty-four hours was one of the heaviest that ever visited this section, and the rainfall for the storm ranges from four to six inches. Creeks broke over their banks and did considerable damage, mostly to railroad property. Tracks are washed out in many places.

The train from Oroville was signaled at Merries station and ordered back to Davisville, but had not proceeded very far when it was noticed that the tracks were sliding and the water was getting deeper and deeper, and finally the train had to be stopped. The passengers started through the rapidly rising waters to high ground a quarter of a mile distant. A farmer who had heard their cries braved the storm and came to their rescue, and after much difficulty got the passengers to his house and made them comfortable.

The railroad company sent out row boats from Davisville and a few passengers went to that town for the night. It is believed that two tramps who were on the train were drowned.

HEALDSBURG, January 5.—The recent storm was one of the worst this place ever experienced. The creeks are almost full and the low lands are submerged. Several horses and cows were seen floating down the creek and fences and hay stacks were also washed away. In some instances houses are surrounded and the families are imprisoned. The electric light power house and gas works are both flooded. No loss of life has been reported, and no estimate as to financial loss can be made at this writing.

CARSON, Nev., January 5.—The city is a sea of ice. Yesterday's rain lay in pools and was frozen solid last night. The sun did not thaw the ice today. The streets are covered with quantities of jagged ice.

SAN RAFAEL, January 5.—Damage by rains to the San Francisco and North Pacific Coast railroad has been repaired, and trains are now running as usual.

DUNSMUIR, January 5.—A heavy snow slide has detained the south-bound trains. It is expected up trains will be started Monday.

THE STAMP DOES IT.

Roseberry June Tells What Money Actually Is.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—Under the headline, "Forty-three Cents," the Fresno Expositor some time ago in spenking of the fact that the Bank of Savannah received no more than 43 cents from the Philadelphia mint for a defaced silver dollar, volunteers the following opinion upon finance:

"Had the coin been gold the government would have paid the holder for it exactly what it was worth by weight, since gold does not get enhanced in value a particle by having the government's stamp on it."

The Expositor is very anxious that the bank be paid in full for damaged property; but how about the people who pay the bank? And is it true that gold is not made more valuable by being used as money?

Since the Expositor is either unable or unwilling to comprehend the self-evident fact that money is simply the stamp of the government, and the law, or "fiat" imprinted upon any suitable material used as a medium of exchange, and such fiat or law, the stamp of government, enhances the value of coin, permit me to ask the Expositor this question: If the government or congress should pass a law demonetizing gold and take the government stamp off the gold coin, thus relegating gold to the category of metal, like lead or iron, would the gold have the same value as now? And if congress should enact a law that silver coin should be the money and standard of value in this country, would silver be worth more than now? And if the government should enact a law that a piece of paper, bearing the stamp of the government, should be the only money of this country, would such an act affect the price of gold and silver, and would such a piece of paper, redeemable in all the products and property of the nation, and received for taxes by the government, pass current as money? And if so, why not issue such a currency instead of taxing the people to death in buying gold, to be used as money when the people can very well get along without it?

Will the Expositor answer the above questions, and also enlighten its readers why that paper always advocates gold as the only basis for money?

ROSEBERRY JUNE.

A LEAKY DOME.

THE STORM FLOODS THE GARRET OF THE COURTHOUSE.

A Contract Made in Haste and Repented of at Leisure.

The county court house has been productive of many squabbles, and the condition of the roof after the late storm comes to cap the climax.

For a month past, whenever it has rained, Janitor Henry Smart has found work for a mop and broom on the upper floors of the building, and was led to wonder where the water could come from. He concluded that there might be a loose sheet of copper or a gaping seam here and there, but the storm of Friday was an eye-opener for him.

The water fairly flooded the two stories of the dome and poured in from so many quarters that it was as useless to think of looking for leaks as to discover why a colander is not water-tight. When the rain ceased and the water had run off, Henry Smart climbed up the stairs to the dome to investigate.

Examination showed that the copper sheating, instead of being carefully soldered at the junction of the plates, was simply loosely attached to the window sills and soldered here and there below, so that the water getting into the open spaces passed readily through the seams of the timbers below and behind, these being entirely unsoaked.

A REPUBLICAN reporter went up into the dome with Chairman Letcher of the supervisors, and was shown the defective joints, which were distributed all over the dome. An expert sent by Donahoe, Emmons & Co. gave us his opinion that the defective work would take three months to put in proper condition, and that the cost would be several hundred dollars. As the county still owes about $7000 on the contract with Smilie Brothers—exclusive of the amount decided in favor of the county by the supreme court—the chances are that the roof will be put in repair before any further money is paid to the contractors.

Chinese Teahouses.

The restaurant, or teahouse, in China takes the place of the western clubroom. All the current news and gossip are here circulated and discussed over their eating or gambling. One of their games of chance, which we have frequently noticed, seems to consist in throwing their fingers at one another and shouting at the top of their voices. It is really a matching of numbers, for which the Chinamen make signs on their fingers up to the numeral ten.

The Chinese of all nations seem to live in order to eat, and from this race of epicures has developed a nation of excellent cooks. Our fare in China, outside the Gobi district, was far better than in Turkey or Persia, and for this reason we are better able to endure the increased hardships. A plate of sliced meat stewed with vegetables and served with a piquant sauce, sliced radishes and onions, with vinegar, two loaves of Chinese mo-mo, or steamed bread, and a pot of tea would usually cost us about 25 cents apiece. Everything in China is sliced so that it can be eaten with the chopsticks. These we at length learned to manipulate with sufficient dexterity to pick up a dove's egg, the highest attainment in the chopstick art. The Chinese have rather a sour than a sweet tooth. Sugar is rarely used in anything, and never in tea. The steeped tea flowers, which the higher classes use, are really more tasty without it.—Century.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS MENACED.

When the Cleveland administration ended the uncertainty of the free trade crusade by passing a tariff bill, it was generally believed that the worst was over, and that the country would shortly regain, in a degree, the prosperity which had been so ruthlessly destroyed; that the changes actually made were not so great that the country could not adjust itself to them and recover in a measure from the paralysis with which it was prostrated. But it must be admitted that the expectation is liable to be disappointed. Not only is the country now threatened with the prospect of abortive financial legislation, but the result of tariff legislation is likely to prove more disastrous than was anticipated.

The repeal of the reciprocity clause of the tariff law and the substitution of a protective tariff instead of a bounty on sugar has led to complications with certain European countries which threatens to almost ruin our foreign trade in some of the most important branches. Our commercial trouble with Spain has already cut off a large part of the flour trade with Cuba and Porto Rico, and our recently growing trade with Brazil is well-nigh obliterated. The loss of our cattle and meat trade will amount to $25,000,000; and it is a conservative estimate that the loss of exports now almost certain to occur as a result of Democratic legislation will amount to $150,000,000 per annum. This will be nearly, if not quite as disastrous as the uncertainty which hung like a millstone about the neck of industry during last year.

It is no use attempting to conceal the fact that the brighter prospects of a few months ago are being rapidly dissipated by the unfavorable results of legislation and the growing distrust of that which is now pending. Feeble and misdirected attempts at financial legislation will have in some respects the same effect that was experienced from threatened and long delayed action on the tariff. Capital will be kept in retirement very largely, and reviving industry will be retarded.

This is the present outlook, and it can only be changed by an unexpected exhibition of statesmanship on the part of the administration. It may be yet possible to avert the difficulties and complications which are again beginning to darken the horizon, but while it is always best to look upon the bright side, it must be confessed that the outlook just at the present is very different from what we would like to see it.

REGULAR ACTION—OR NONE.

THE REPUBLICAN would like very much to see the election frauds in San Francisco probed to the bottom and the true inwardness of the work of the rotten election boards exposed to the public gaze, but it is not in favor of any extraordinary proceedings, depending upon the action of a party majority in the legislature, to bring about that result. If a recount can be made in accordance with the methods contemplated by the law, well and good. Let it be made, and let the result end all controversy. But let us not have any interference with the regular course of affairs at the state capitol for this purpose. The sit- [illegible] warrant such proceeding, and we are confident that it would not have the approval of the Republicans of the state.

If the law is defective in this respect, let it be amended in due time, but do not permit the Republican party of California to become responsible for any graver mistakes than those which have already been thrust upon it. We have had enough of the political imbecility which caused the defeat of the Republican nominee for governor; the legislature should not permit it to result in defeating the party in 1896.

SET THEM AT WORK.

Sacramento is fairly in the hands of the vigilantes, and the reports from there sound like old times. Listen, for instance, to these words spoken by Lincoln White, one of the leaders in the movement:

It is our intention to hang a burglar as soon as we find him. We will not take him from jail after he is once in, but if we meet him in the custody of policemen on the street we shall take him away from them. We will be particular, of course, to ascertain that he is the right man. If he has burglarized a house, if he has attempted to burglarize a house, if he has stood up and robbed a man on the street or attempted to do so, and we can fasten the crime on him, we shall string him up.

That sounds like business, and it also sounds like a very serious reflection on the civilization that gives birth to such conditions. Viewed candidly, the Sacramento condition amounts to this: The criminal element has become so rampant in that city that citizens who are ordinarily law-abiding in self defence set law at defiance, and announce that they are ready to commit serious crimes in order that toughs may be driven from the city. These are the cold facts of the case, for the law does not punish burglary with hanging, and if it did, it does not place the execution of its fiats in the hands of committees of citizens.

It is not to be doubted that the provocation to this action has been sore, and it may even be a question whether this is not a case—if ever one exists—where defiance of the letter and spirit of the law is justifiable. It is not from this point of view that THE REPUBLICAN would look upon the matter. The question it would consider is how much real efficacy there may be in the line of action Sacramento has adopted. Clearly its efficacy is purely temporary and local. The criminals will now be driven from that city, but Stockton and Fresno and other towns will receive them, and when the excitement has passed away they will return to the capital city. In brief, the action is that of him who would cure a case of seven-year itch by scratching.

What is needed is a law under which the army of worthless vagrants and loafers shall be compelled to work—no work, no eat. The legislature that is about to convene could scarcely do a better work for the people than by the enactment of such a measure. We have dilly-dallied too long with the tramp problem, until it threatens to overwhelm us. Among these fellows are found a large percentage of criminals. Set them at work, or let them go hungry. Let this be the legal, the general and the individual rule, and the tramp proper—or improper—will fade away like the dews of the morning. Set them at work.

Hard labor on the stone-pile is good enough for the criminal leaders of organized vagabondage who advise their followers to refuse to work for something to eat, and if private charity is not sufficient for their wants to take what they need. Sacramento has done the right thing in putting a couple of these unmitigated scoundrels in jail, and other towns similarly afflicted should promptly follow the example. The rule should be adopted and strictly adhered to, that men who refuse to work for what they eat shall be denied the privilege of eating.

---

GEORGE P. MANCHESTER, recently of Merced, has taken charge of the Tulare Valley Citizen. Manchester is a young man of considerable newspaper experience, and THE REPUBLICAN hopes to see him do well with the Citizen.

RANDOM REMARKS.

A Boston court has decided that marriages solemnized by Salvation Army officers are illegal. Still, as the Salvation lass who was thus presumptively wedded, remarked when her twins were born, "If this is not marriage it has several of the symptoms."

Some of the people of Bakersfield are natural immorists. The other day they took a drunken man, put him in a coffin, and carried him to the cemetery. It was the funniest idea, and—if you have no sense of humor you needn't laugh; some people never can see a joke.

---

The arrangement for the payment to the Osage Indians of the sum of $200,000 as interest on the $8,500,000 the government has agreed to pay them for their reservation, leads a plain white man to look with regret on his parents because they did not arrange to have him born an Indian. There are 1200 of these Indians, and the interest alone will give them $157 85 apiece, or $789.25 to each family of five persons, while the principal when paid will give them $6,578.46 apiece, or $32,892 30 to each family of five persons. The mistakes that parents make in the matter of complexion are sad. The old couplet should be changed to read:

I—The rich Indian, gracious kindness do,
I—Let us be whites and take our I. O. U.

He who defeated John L. Sullivan as champion bruiser of the world does not let him alone now that he is down. There is no reference herein to James J. Corbett. It was another than he who retired Sullivan from the roped arena, and that other was Old John Barleycorn. His victims are in every graveyard, and there is no mind so profound nor brawn so mighty that it may surely resist him. "Drunk and offensive" is what is told of Sullivan on any day now. Offensive he always was to the better class of citizens; drunk he need not be were it not that the other John has overpowered him. There is a warning for the boys in—but why mention it? Such warnings are seen often enough on every street and in every alley, and if one will not see he will not.

There is considerable labor connected with writing for THE REPUBLICAN, but it is the effort to do this and at the same time edit the San Jacinto Register that is bringing untimely gray hairs to the head and wrinkles to the brow of the author of this department. The last issue of the Register contained six editorial paragraphs, apparently its own, varying from four lines to three sticks long, which were written by Random Remarks. To be sure, they first appeared in THE REPUBLICAN, but the wear and tear of gray matter was not the less on that account. However, the editor of the Register is an honorable man, as was Brutus, and immediately upon reading this he will forward to us a draft for $0.10 for ninety-one lines of editorial at 10 cents a line. The bill is herewith presented. If he doesn't do that he will give due credit to THE REPUBLICAN hereafter. It is merely a case of absent-mindedness, or, in a word, abstraction, but he will abstract no more.

According to the Register, Tulare has a great many cases of destitution of the multitudinous dog variety. This is a form of penury which is not confined to Tulare, and the question whether dogs are a cause or effect of poverty is still undecided. However that may be, it remains a fact that the poorer the family the greater its quantity of mongrel curs. The scale seems to run in about this way:

| CONDITION OF FAMILY. | NO. OF DOGS. |
|---|---|
| Wealthy | None |
| Comfortably well off | One |
| Dread hard times | Two |
| Poor | Three |
| Hungry | Seven |
| Absolute destitution | Eleven |
| Receive public aid | Fourteen (all yellow) |

In that table is embodied the result of many years of careful thought and observation, and if there is anything wrong with it somebody should immediately speak up and say so. Come here, Rover and Carlo and—has anybody seen my dogs? It's time to be going home.

THE TALE OF ANGELINA.

Then arose fair Angelina,
Loveliest of Fresno maidens,
From the grou d that she had sat on,
From the mud that she had sat in,
Sat with quick precipitation
And a very sudden shimmer;
And as she arose a male man,
Rude, uncouth, but blessed with trousers,
Said: "Haw, haw, naw, haw, haw,"
Looking on the gore she sat on
And the mud she left her mould in,
Beauteous mould, but all too sudden.
Sore of heart was Angelina,
Also sore in other places,
And great tears were on her lashes;
On her cheeks were watery mraes,
And, as oft for watercourses,
In her brain a mighty rain was.
Yet no word of woe she uttered
Till she saw her young man, William,
He was loved her, as we should utter
For her sore she dared not mention.
Straight she said: "Come hither, William.
Speak I rmen declamation
Such as ye speak in the melding t
Hear ye hardly it the zephol "
William heard, and hands uplifted,
This he said to please the maiden:
—————————————!
Do mind and ————!
Mud be ——— to ———— !"
And the maiden, full of gladness,
Turned her bonnie eyes upon him,

Saying only: "Thank you, William.
You have said what I was fit to hear.
And a trusty loyal man I know her."
And they walked away together,
Leavin the se in mud enmunded
Fond remembrance of the maiden
In the place that she had sat in.
And 'twas ever thus, my readers:
In the states of life and trouble
Man has ways no man has built go,
Beyond mud or water soiled on
Whose service an I perfect comfort
Yet so only dearly gains us;
And when trouble lifts surround you,
Don't it be to quit or make man,
Press he trigger, set him on fi
Set him saying words at hordd,
Vivid heated and intensed ned:
And when you are well a better,
Breathe them gently: "Dear, I thank you"
This the tale of Angelina,
And its muddy, muddy moral.

A LAYMAN'S SERMON.

My text this morning, dearly beloved, will be found in an old book which is now so much out of date that it is rarely read, except in a house devoted exclusively to that and similar purposes. It reads:

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."

It naturally follows, brethren, that if the most of us manage to see Him it must be through our mothers' or sisters' eyes. We are not ourselves making any particular preparations for such an event, and I'll a view of the great white city depends on purity of heart we will have to use a very powerful telescope if we get much of a look at it. If you doubt my word get behind a screen and listen to the private conversation of the next group of men you happen to run across. Ten to one it will be rich, rare and racy, but not tending heavenward; not to any great extent. Curious, too, isn't it? We are placed here with mind, spirit and body. We feed our minds on the Decameron, our spirits on spirits frumenti, and to our bodies we give the husks of these little years. That is, most of us do. Still, there is hope for us. The lives of many of us have been touched by God's best gifts to man, a good mother's love; and these mothers, these mothers! I think that if their boys go astray (and they do) that their prayers will forevermore beat against the great, white throne until He who sits thereon shall heed, and out of the mist of sin and the land of the shadow, their boys shall come to be folded once more in their loving, eternity-faithful arms. So there is our hope.

"They shall see God." We don't know much about that, and we know very, very little of Him. We know that His sunshine shimmers down the valley, and that His rains fall upon the just and unjust, mostly hitting the latter. More than that, what do we know? But we do know that here are His creatures, and that some of them sorely need our kindly help. And so, what's the matter with giving it, thus making this round world better, if we don't get much of a grip on the next—not paying much attention to the tomorrow, in fact, but adding gladness to the today, and knowing well that all the todays will make eternity. This is a busy world, dearly beloved, where sermons should be short; so consider this one concluded. THE DEACON.

Cleared the Sidewalk.

Last evening John Doe imbibed some ex-Christmas spirits and began feeling very jubilant. On Mariposa street, between H and I, he thought he would have some sport in clearing the sidewalk. He stopped several men, who all escaped him by yielding to his claim that he owned the sidewalk. He next caught hold of a colored woman who was passing, but she finally broke away and ran out into the street, much to the delight of John. Officer Anderson came along next.

"Get off the sidewalk, mister," was John's greeting.

"Yep," said the officer, looking from above. John was greatly awe-stricken when the magic touch of the officer's hand quickly caught him on the shoulder and hustled him off to cold storage for the night.

There is no need of asking in Fresno, as in other places, who does the business of the town. It is known to all that the White Front Stores, 1027, 1029 1031 I street, do the business here. These stores are the center of the retail trade of Fresno. Town people, colony people, foothill people and visitors from all the valley towns and cities go straight to the White Front Stores to do their trading. They have all learned that the best place in Fresno to get honest goods at the lowest prices is at the White Front Stores. Consequently the retail business of the city centers there. *

THE COUNTY ORPHANS

Filthy Condition of the Present Institution.

HEALTH OFFICER CONDEMNS IT

Dr. Hopkins Makes a Scathing Report to the Supervisors—Action to Be Taken.

Had the condition of affairs at the county orphanage been generally known it is safe to say that a strong appeal would have been made to the supervisors to take immediate steps to remove the children.

Yesterday morning Dr. St. George Hopkins, the county medical officer, was before the board, and the question of alleged crowding of the institution was brought to his attention. Dr. Hopkins decided to visit the orphanage at once and without notice, and desired a representative of THE REPUBLICAN to accompany him.

The subjoined report of Dr. Hopkins, modified in certain places by reason of the sanitary details being undesirable for publication in a newspaper, is self-explanatory and may well cause the reader to ask himself, can these things be?

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Fresno County.

January 5, 1895.

Gentlemen:—Acting under instructions I have this day visited the county orphanage, under the charge of Mrs. Donleavy, and submit the following report:

There are twenty-five children and three adults in the orphanage, making twenty-eight persons in all. The accommodations in the house are for a family not to exceed seven persons. An open drain lies at the back door immediately beneath the kitchen window and there are holes filled with seepage and refuse all around the back porch. The well which supplies water to the house is surrounded by an accumulation of filth and stable refuse. The well is not four feet from the drain and I cannot conceive how pollution can be regarded as otherwise than certain. The conditions at the rear of the house are directly favorable to the production of typhoid, diphtheria and filth diseases generally.

The closets were found to be in a horrible condition. It was really no closet at all, but some low cracker boxes. The general surroundings of the house were untidy in the extreme, and a Jersey bull was stalled in an insecure pen to the great danger of the children.

I found the children taking lunch in the kitchen, a very small apartment with no convenience for storage of any kind. There was not sitting accommodations for all the children, and some of them had to stand up.

The nursery and general playroom was found to be close, ill-ventilated, and littered up with dirty rags and clothing hung up to dry. The room measured 12 feet in hight, 12 in width and 16 in length, affording less than one-fourth the cubical air space required by law.

In this room I found a paralytic child, for which the matron is paid $10 a month by her father. For many reasons this unfortunate child should be removed at once to a hospital where it can have the constant attention required. It is most undesirable for the sake of the other children that the little one should be allowed to remain where she is.

The room is not properly ventilated and when I entered, the windows were closed and the transom nearly so. The beds in the room should be removed. The sleeping apartment of the boys is entirely too small, and eight girls sleep in one room originally built for occupancy of one grown person or two at the outside.

In my opinion the present condition of the orphanage shows a neglect and a scanty provision for the reception of the children most dangerous to their own and the public health. And I recommend the prompt attention of the supervisors to the expediency of removing the children to healthier and more commodious quarters.

The nuisance I spoke of should be abated at once.

Signed, H. ST. GEORGE HOPKINS,
Health Officer.

The matron said, when questioned by Dr. Hopkins, that only sixteen of the twenty-five children are "on the county," that is to say, orphans supported from the county funds. This fact was unknown to the supervisors, and it appeared from Mrs. Donleavy's statement that the other nine were "farmed" by her as a private enterprise.

The report of the medical officer makes but little reference to the domestic arrangements, or the accommodations for home comfort and educational training. Of such accommodations it could only be said there were none at all. The nursery, or general play room, which is the largest in the house, has twenty-five children crowded into it, with two beds to subtract from the available space. There were only two or three chairs so that the children have to sit most of the time on the floor.

They are supposed to wash in a bucket on the back porch in fine weather, and in a bath room, also used as a bed room, at other times. This bath room is about 10x6 feet, and boys and girls alike have to perform their ablutions in it.

The matron stated that she taught the younger children herself, but the need of a kindergarten was very manifest. There seemed to be really nothing in the way of object lessons for the little ones except a superabundance of clothes and things hung up to air, while a quantity of soiled and ragged clothing, etc., was gathered hastily up from the floor and thrown into a closet as soon as Dr. Hopkins began his tour of inspection.

Mrs. Donleavy and the elderly woman who assists her were not themselves on dress parade for inspection, but Dr. Hopkins was not concerned with domestic matters so much as cubical airspace and the horrible nuisances in the rear of the house, which evidenced a total neglect of the commonest principles of decency and cleanliness.

The supervisors received Dr. Hopkins' report in silence, but there will be no question about their action on Monday. Chairman Letcher said he would go down to the orphanage today and assure himself that the ventilation was attended to, by having the transom removed in the nursery and the windows so fixed that they could be let down at the top, which has never been done. Dr. Hopkins will serve notice on the owner of the premises to have the nuisances outside abated forthwith.

The next step will be to remove as many of the county orphans from the place as may be necessary to assure a proper supply of air for the remainder. The condition of the place yesterday was a reproach to civilization.

CALIFORNIA FRUIT.

A Correspondent Speaks of Railroad Rates.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—I have read in the evening paper, for the sixth time in the last three years, Mr. Mills' semi-annual lecture to the farmers of California upon his pet hobby—"a wider distribution of California fruit." In commenting on the article the editor says, "Mr Mills is the most influential and truest friend the farmer and fruit grower has in California."

Mr. Mills is the ableagent and mouthpiece of C. P. Huntington, and if he is the "truest friend" the California farmer has, then may God have mercy on the poor California farmer!

Will Mr. Mills please rise and tell us what he has ever done to deserve the everlasting gratitude of California farmers? It is true he has given us a great deal of advice, such as it is. Not many months ago he came to Fresno and told a reporter that we lacked energy and enterprise and should imitate the people of Los Angeles. Only a year or two ago he announced, with a great flourish of trumpets, that his principal was going to buy up large bodies of land and sell it out in small tracts, all for the benefit of farmers. But this scheme, like all his others, died before the ink got dry on the various railroad organs in which it appeared.

In discussing the shipping question the gentleman uses the following language. I quote verbatim:

"Where the determination of the percentage of the joint effort of industry and commerce is wholly in the hands of commerce, ingenuity will be exercised to afford that percentage of profit to the side of industry as will keep it in perpetual operation and will offer only that minimum which will merely insure continued production."

Stripping the above sentence of its useless verbiage and translating it into plain American or Missouri language, it means just what a warm personal friend and trusted agent of Mr. Stanford told me fifteen years ago. He said it was the fixed policy of the railroad "commerce" to take all the traffic would bear, and explained his meaning by saying they figured up the cost of production; about what it would take to feed the farmer; and took the balance for freight. Time has proved the truth of his assertion.

During the recent fruit growers' convention it was stated that 6000 cars had been shipped east this season, and that the farmer had received back for his share an average of ten dollars per ton, less than the cost of production. The transportation companies received $500 per car or fifty dollars per ton.

Now, Mr. Mills, figure up $50 per ton for the railroad; $10 for the grower, and add $50 per ton for the retailer, which he must have, and you have placed California fruit beyond the reach of the toiling millions. You may talk of "unconstrained commerce," of "economics," of the "physical and economical distribution of California fruits" until you are as grey as a rat. You may try to pose as the "farmer's friend," and keep on filling every railroad organ from Siskiyou to San Diego with high sounding and pedantic sentences, until Gabriel blows his trumpet, but they will bring no relief to the farmer, who is groaning under the heavy burden the railroad has put upon him.

No, Mr. Mills, it is no use. You may try to disguise the truth as you may, and whip the devil around the stump as you will, but I know, and every other farmer knows that there is but one solution on earth for the green fruit problem, and Mr. Huntington has it in his own hands. Make the old slasher remove the impassable barrier he has placed between the producer and the consumer; make him cut down that unjust, unreasonable and infamous rate from $500 to $150 per car, which he can well afford to do, and the floodgates of distribution will be thrown wide open, and both consumption and production will speedily increase ten-fold.

"But," says Mr. Huntington, "I can't cut down rates because it takes every dollar the farmer now makes to pay the interest on my millions of fictitious bonds held by English bankers, and they won't wait on me. Besides I have to have a little to build railroads in Mexico and finish up my four-million-dollar palace in New York, in order that I may live in all the pomp and splendor of royalty while the farmers of California must toil and sweat to pay the bills."

Lion-Josephian.

The marriage of Alex A. Lion and Miss Asnive Josephian, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents Thursday evening, January 3, on K street, was a very pleasant affair. Rev. W. H. Martin performed the ceremony, and excellent music was furnished from the piano by Miss Genevieve Swain and Miss Hattie Kazanjian. There were decorations of flowers and palm leaves, and everywhere taste and elegance were to be seen. The evening was spent in games and conversation, and at a convenient hour refreshments were served. The following persons were present: Miss Anna Ward, Mrs A. Strothers, Mr. and Mrs. Kahrmanian, Mr. and Mrs. Kazanjian, Miss Kazanjian, Mr. and Mrs. Vartanian, Miss Vartanian, Mr. and Mrs. Papasian, Miss Papasian, Mrs. and Miss Marsarian, Mr. and Mrs. Barsamian, and Messrs. M. K. Giant, A. Peters and J. Jacob.

Court Notes.

Judge Harris yesterday allowed Stanton L. Carter $400 as attorney fee in the matter of the insolvency case of A. D. Barling.

The insolvency suit of E. W. Barnett has been transferred from Judge Webb's to Judge Carter's court.

In the matter of the insolvency of Charles Clark, J. F. Hall was appointed assignee, with bonds of $1000.

Appeal Case.

The suit of B. T. Scott against G. W. Pearson has been appealed by the defendant from Justice Crichton's court to the superior court. The amount in dispute is $174.10. W. J. Tinnin is attorney for the plaintiff, while Strother & Strother and Porter & Freman represent the defendant.

Veterinary Denistry—Its Immense Importance.

The rapid development of this branch of veterinary science proves its importance. The causes of numerous diseases and disagreeable habits heretofore ascribed as constitutional, have been traced directly to the teeth. Blindness, drolling, stopping short, starting suddenly, frothing, loss of flesh, weak eyes, driving on one rein and pulling are very often due to diseased and irregular teeth. Rough edges and sharp corners of the teeth lacerate the mouth and produce nervousness and irritability; decayed and elongated molars and incisors prevent the proper mastication of the food, producing indigestion and general debility. Decayed molars cause necrosis of the bone, abscesses, nasal gleet, fistula of the jaw, etc. Parties having horses suffering from the same should call and have your horse's mouth examined free of charge by expert in veterinary dentistry. ## A RETURN SOCIAL.

To be Given by the Alumni Members of the High School.

The members of the alumni of the high school were so enthusiastic over their enjoyable reception and entertainment given by the junior class of the high school last Friday evening that yesterday a number of the boys decided to give a return social next Wednesday evening. It will be held at Kutner hall and the high school will be invited, together with the teachers.

The graduates think that it is not often that they are all home together, and when this does occur they want to make the best of it. Play while you play, and work while you work, is their motto. In other words, a good time during vacation, and work while at school.

To My Friends and Patrons.

Another year has rolled past and I trust it has left many pleasant memories behind it for you. Amongst the good wishes which will be tendered you for the coming year, please accept mine. That 1895 may be full of happiness and gladness for you, is the sincere wish of

Yours very truly,

"A NEW START"

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

FRESNO AT BERKELEY AND PALO ALTO.

The Excellent Reputation of Her Boys and Girls—Professors and Vacations.

As the university students are at present home for the holidays it will be of interest to the people of Fresno to know something of their numbers at those two institutions, the State university at Berkeley and Stanford university at Palo Alto. Fresno has seventeen at Berkeley and nine at Stanford. These has given a reputation to Fresno's schools, which is excelled by none in the state.

Graduates of the Fresno high school are admitted without examination to the colleges on recommendation of the principal of the high school. Although it has not had the advantages which other high schools have had, yet the record of Fresno's students at college, taken as a whole, can be spoken of with pride. The thorough preparation for college which the Fresno schools give, has been very favorably commented upon by leading educators of the state. There are several other subjects which should be taken up by the Fresno high school; but on account of the expense of additional teachers, it has not been practicable to introduce them as yet.

Paramount are Greek and a modern language, which are required in preparation to enter the classical course at both the colleges. Consequently most of Fresno's students take the course in social sciences. Latin is required for entrance to this course, and Latin students from Fresno stand among the highest.

In reference to the university it may be stated that there is considerable objection to the shortness of the terms. Practically they are not at work nine months of the year, and the work which has to be done is necessarily not thorough. Professors and teachers like to go on hunting trips and consequently they make the vacations to suit.

The course of social sciences is the broadest in the university. It comprises all the subjects of a good practical education, and it is one which is most frequently taken. It includes history, science, mathematics, Latin and modern languages.

At the state university Misses Belle Ritchie and Jessie Dewelle are taking that course with a view of preparing for teachers. They graduated from the Fresno high school in 1893. Misses Myrtle Romtree and Cecilia Cronise, of the class of '94 of the Fresno high school, are taking the same course. Miss Agnes Helm of '93, is also taking the social science course.

Among the boys the following are taking the same course at Berkeley: Silas Geis, Clyde Olney, Albert Munger, Walter Ferguson, Bert Warner and Elmo Rowell. Of these Geis, Munger and Olney are studying for law. Walter Ferguson intends to follow the footsteps of his father, J. W. Ferguson, in the fields of journalism. Elmo Rowell is a nephew of Dr. Rowell and now makes his home in Fresno. He came from the east two years ago.

Frank Ellis, who graduated last spring from the Fresno high school, is taking a course in civil engineering. Will Blasingame, another Fresno boy, is taking the same course.

Tracy Kelley, of the class of '92, is the only one from Fresno who is taking the classical course, of which Greek is a prominent feature. Sanford Cartwright, of the class of '92 of the Fresno high school, is taking a course in chemistry.

Fresno is represented at Stanford by Misses Mabel Cory, Elizabeth Braly and Bertha Braly, who are all taking courses in English; Joe Bernhard, John H. Rutherford, Bert Swain, Ed Swain and Lew Smith. The latter graduates from the law course next spring. Joe Bernhard graduates from the same course in 1896. Rutherford, who graduated from the Fresno high school last spring, is taking a course in English with a view of taking up law. Henry Cory is taking a course in English.

At the dental school, a department of the state university located in San Francisco, Fresno is represented by Monte Thomas, Walter Hughes and William Herrington.

From the above it will be seen that a majority of the Fresno boys will follow the practice of the law. The country is overstocked with lawyers, but, as Daniel Webster said, there is always room at the top. Good lawyers always have plenty to do. "By what stars, by what seas, by what lands will the fame of Fresno's posterity be limited?"

Jackets of the Season.

There have been many conjectures as to what kind of jackets are to take the place of Eton. The Spanish, the figaro and others have been suggested, but the indications are that it is going to take its own place.

It is so convenient, so comfortable and so universally becoming that the wonder is we have been without it all these years. The most desirable thing about them is the fact that they can be so endlessly varied. They can be made with sleeves and without, with revers and collar, or with only one or neither. Then they may be trimmed or made absolutely plain.

The only thing in the coat line which is giving the Eton any race at all is that close fitting jacket that reaches to the waist, with a vest in front and a short, full basque at the back. The jacket which gave rise to these remarks is a regulation Eton, made of heavy brocaded silk. It does not match the dress, but may be worn with anything.

It has no sleeves, and in their place are sleeve capes composed of two flounces. The high collar stands up around the neck after the manner of the heavy coats of last winter. Under the jacket is a silk waist, with folds across the bust and a wide girdle. When the days grow warmer, a white swiss waist may be substituted for the silk one. The hat is characteristic of the season with its bow in the back.—Boston Advertiser.

Kentucky's Entering Wedge.

Kentucky has adopted an entering wedge for full woman suffrage. The general assembly before adjournment enacted a "uniform charter" for all cities containing a population of more than 20,000 and less than 100,000 inhabitants. This uniform charter contains the following provision:

"Women who may possess such other qualifications required for males are hereby declared to be eligible as members of said board of education and qualified to vote at any and all elections for members of said board. The officers required to hold registration for voters in cities shall provide for separate registration of men and women and cause to be opened separate polls at which all persons desiring to vote for members of the school board shall be permitted to vote. Otherwise both the registration and election shall be held according to the provisions of the general elections."

Kentucky was the first state to give women limited suffrage in school elections. In 1842 widows having children of school age were authorized to vote for school directors. Kentucky has now taken this additional forward step.—Louisville Exchange.

J. T. Goodman went to the bay city this morning.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Samual Linnett and His Strange Hallucination.

Judge Carter, assisted by Dr. G. H. Aiken and Dr. J. R. Reilly, yesterday held an examination of Samuel Linnett, and adjudged him insane, and ordered him committed to the asylum at Stockton. Linnett is a Turk, and lives in San Francisco where he and his brother own a candy store at the corner of Sansome and Market streets.

About a week ago Linnett came to Fresno, as he says, to escape death from the hands of assassins urged on by some strange woman who pursued him relentlessly, as he supposes to get his money. He seems rational on every other subject, but has the hallucination that some woman is following him.

AMUSEMENTS.

Sadie Martinot at the Barton Tomorrow—U and I Tuesday.

Undoubtedly a large audience will be assembled at the Barton opera house tomorrow evening to greet Sadie Martinot and Max Figman in the genuinely funny and phenomenally successful comedy, "The Passport," by Stephenson and Yardley authors of "The Nominee" and many other successes.

This piece as presented by Miss Martinot has made a great impression where ever it has been produced. The opportunities nowadays to see pure mirth and hilarious fun, without coarseness or horse play, seems to have been eagerly grasped after by theatre goers where ever this play has been presented. The piece is said to be overflowing with ludicrous situations and humor, as perhaps may be seen by the part which Miss Martinot will assume, being that of a capricious forgetful young lady whose forgetfulness lands her into all sorts of scrapes. The role of Mr. Figman under whose personal direction the play has been staged, is also said to be exceedingly humorous. The support will consist of a first class comedy company in every respect. Miss Martinot's engagement here will be the event of the season, and undoubtedly this event will be one of fashionable as well as dramatic interest, and the attendance may be looked forward to be a representative one.

The box office will be open today from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 8TH.

George P. Murphy and James F. Post will appear at the Barton in that great laughing festival, U and I. Don't fail to see it. Seats now on sale. *

Diversity of Human Beings.

The French anthropometric bureau, founded and conducted by M. Bertillon, have found that out of nearly half a million persons who have passed through their hands no two individuals were exactly the same in all the particulars recorded. M. Francis Galton, F. R. S., having taken the finger prints of 2,500 persons one found a difference in every case, deduces from this fact that the probability of a resemblance occurring is about 1 in 64,000,000.

COMPETITION IN BABIES.

Wherein a Word to a Wise Papa Ought to Be Sufficient.

"I am getting to be the most barefaced and versatile liar on earth," said the bachelor, "and it's all on account of two little innocent babies. Two of my friends at the office have recently been invested with the honor of paternity—both boys. Prouder papas you never saw. One of them, Jones, is an amateur photographer, and the other day he took a picture of his baby and brought it to the office.

"Of course you know how intelligent a child of one month looks," continued the bachelor, stroking his bald head with the air of a connoisseur in infancy, "but the boys in the office were loyal. They swore it was the brightest looking kid they had ever seen and that it was the image of Jones.

"If it had been any one else's child, Jones would have knocked somebody down for the insult, but he took it as a great compliment and stuck the picture up in a frame on his desk.

"This was too much for Smith—the other papa. He hasn't any camera of his own, so he got a young man who lives next door to come in and take his baby's picture. Then he brought it down to the office as an opposition to Jones'. Really I'm sorry for Smith if his baby looks like that picture, but I rather think the amateur artist libeled the child and made it the monster it appears.

"The picture was not focused properly. It represents Smith in the background holding on his knee a mammoth infant nearly as big as he is. The baby's hands are outstretched toward the camera and look as though they might belong to Mr. Fitzsimmons or Mr. Corbett. Smith thought it was beautiful, and when some one suggested that the boy looked just exactly like him he ordered drinks all around and put the picture up on his desk as a further opposition to Jones'.

"Every time I come into the office I have to stop and admire those pictures, and I'm acquiring great self control by keeping a straight face whenever Jones or Smith says, 'And still you will remain a bachelor, will you?' "—New York Herald.

BREAKFAST IN BED.

This Is the Way In Which to Enjoy the Height of Luxury.

There is nothing which gives one quite the same feeling of luxury and affluence as breakfasting in bed—that is, unless one is forced to do it. Then it seems merely an annoyance. But when the woman whom unkind fate and domestic or business duties usually force to be up with the lark can lie in bed and have a daintily appointed breakfast tray brought up to her she feels that the final joy of sybaritism is hers.

Sunday morning is the best time for the daughter of toil to indulge in this luxurious habit. If she is a churchgoing woman, she may manage by having breakfast at 9:45. If she desires to be both pious and lazy, there are those who compromise by reading morning service in bed, and their method is perhaps not to be despised.

The first step toward enjoying this luxury is to have one's warm bath, hair brushing and the like. Then slipping on a bath robe or a dressing sack, the seeker after luxury should slip back into bed, adjust her pillows comfortably and proceed to enjoy her breakfast. It should be an unusually dainty one and served with the most appetizing regard for appearances. The tray should be covered with a delicately embroidered cloth. The china pot in which the coffee comes up should be as pretty as coffeepots can be, the sugar basin and cream jug the very perfection of daintiness. There should be a little glass bowl of mignonette or violets, or a couple of carnations, or even some fragrant green geranium stalks. A bunch of grapes, duskily purple or pink and opal, coffee clear as amber and fragrant as only coffee can be, toast, a slice of bacon and an egg or eggs boiled form a breakfast fit to serve on the pretty tray.

If the woman who breakfasts in bed will proceed to spend the rest of the day there, sleeping when she can, reading a little, entirely undisturbed by the cares of her household, she will ward off the approach of hideous old age half a decade.—Philadelphia Press.

THE SEAL QUESTION AGAIN.

It Is Claimed That the Paris Rules Have Resulted In Regular Slaughter.

The very first year's trial of the Paris restrictions seems to have resulted in an appeal from the United States to other nations to stop pelagic sealing in Bering sea altogether next year. In proof of its good faith our government, it is reported, would suspend its own seal killing entirely on the Pribilof islands at much loss of revenue, and perhaps at the risk of having to indemnify the lessees of the islands.

The fact is that our friends, the Victoria sealers, overdid their business during the last season, and the new Paris rules enabled them to overdo it. They began with a great outcry against the rules, holding a meeting and intimating that their occupation was gone. This, however, was possibly intended for effect on the British parliament. But when it had no effect they went to work at the beginning of the season with their customary energy, and the result was that of breaking all records in their year's catch. They took, according to the published statements, about 95,000 skins. These represent presumably a still larger number of seals slaughtered, though not quite so large an excess as if firearms had been used. Add the number taken by American vessels, as well as by the Russian and Japanese, and it will be seen that the slaughter of the animals during the year must have been enormous.

How large a proportion were secured in Bering sea does not appear by the statements thus far made public, but it has been said that the Triumph, which made the champion catch, surpassing in fact anything before known, obtained more than two-thirds of her seals within the waters of Bering sea within seven weeks, although those were not open until Aug. 1.

The result of the investigations made by Mr. Hamlin of the treasury department confirms the views entertained by our own navy officers in the patrol fleet that the animals are fast diminishing, and that the Paris rules are not checking the diminution. The consent to a year's halt in pelagic sealing by all nations is perhaps the best remedy for existing evils. The next question is as to how many nations will agree to this proposal. It would be better if the restriction should apply to both sides of the north Pacific, by the co-operation of Russia and Japan, but England's acceptance of the arrangement would alone justify our government in carrying it out.—New York Sun.
